OUR ACTIVITIES

PLANTATION DRIVE

DDSA organised a plantation drive to promote environmental awareness, community participation and a sense of responsibility towards nature. The activity brought together young participants and volunteers who actively participated in planting and caring for saplings in a community space. Through this initiative, participants learned about the importance of trees, clean surroundings, biodiversity and environmental conservation. The plantation activity also encouraged teamwork, cooperation and active citizenship among the participants. DDSA believes that environmental awareness is an important part of building healthier and more sustainable communities. Such activities provide practical learning opportunities while motivating young people to contribute positively to society. The plantation drive reflects DDSA's commitment to combining community engagement, education and social responsibility through meaningful grassroots activities.
